

MA IN JOURNALISM, MEDIA AND GLOBALISATION (ERASMUS MUNDUS)*

TWO-YEAR INTERNATIONAL ERASMUS MUNDUS MASTER'S DEGREE

The Erasmus Mundus Master's in Journalism, Media and Globalisation builds on the diverse journalistic experience of its students. It offers a venue for the analysis, interpretation and understanding of the global changes that are increasingly challenging the traditional boundaries between media, politics, technology and culture.

Students engage in lively and insightful discussions with classmates from around the world, sharing their unique experiences in journalism and communication-related fields.

LEARN AT LEADING INSTITUTIONS

The programme has been granted the EU's Erasmus Mundus label. Students spend their first year jointly between Aarhus University – taught by faculty from the Department of Political Science and the Department of Information and Media Studies – and the highly respected Danish School of Media and Journalism. In year two, the programme splits into four specialisms, offered by some of Europe's leading universities.

This allows students to customise their studies in the following areas:

- Media and Politics at the University of Amsterdam in the Netherlands
- Business and Finance Journalism at City University in London, UK
- Comparative and Transcultural Approaches at the University of Hamburg, Germany
- War and Conflict at the University of Swansea, Wales

STUDENT LIFE

As an Erasmus Mundus student, you can expect a cultural experience both inside the classroom and out. The programme brings together students from all around the world to join a tight-knit community of inspired and talented young professionals in Aarhus.

For those who want to participate in student media, Jutland Station provides excellent practical experience. You will have an opportunity to cover everything from politics to culture to sports in Aarhus from an international perspective.

CAREERS

Graduates of the MA in Journalism, Media and Globalisation have found jobs in international journalism, as editors or reporters at news institutions around the world, and in communication at international companies and organisations. After studying with an international group of young journalists and communications professionals, students can expect to leave the programme with useful contacts and friends around the world.

Graduates are eligible to apply for PhD programmes at Aarhus University and elsewhere.

◀ I cannot think of any other study programme that is more international and diverse than the Erasmus Mundus programme. Class sessions are not just a daily routine you commit to, but more of a golden opportunity to connect with an array of backgrounds. You simply travel the world in your classroom. My professional background involves global advocacy and media relations, so the programme has been a perfect match in strengthening my skills and knowledge as a global advocate and media practitioner.

SAMIA FITOURI

Student, MA in Journalism, Media and Globalisation, from Tunisia

PLACE OF STUDY

Aarhus and abroad

WWW

mundusjournalism.com

EXPECTED TUITION FOR THE 2-YEAR STUDY PROGRAMME

EU/EEA/Swiss citizens: EUR 9,000

Others: EUR 18,000

MA IN JOURNALISM, MEDIA AND GLOBALISATION (ERASMUS MUNDUS)*

TWO-YEAR INTERNATIONAL ERASMUS MUNDUS MASTER'S DEGREE

PROGRAMME STRUCTURE

The programme takes an academic and theoretical approach to journalism. Students are awarded a joint degree from Aarhus University and one of the European partner universities.

During the second semester of year one, students can apply to complete 20 ECTS at an overseas partner university – choosing either the University of California at Berkeley or Pontificia Universidad Catolica de Chile or University of Technology Sydney.

ERASMUS MUNDUS SCHOLARSHIPS

The Mundus Journalism Consortium offers a limited number of Erasmus Mundus student scholarships, funded by the EU, for students admitted to the Mundus Journalism Masters course in 2017 or 2018 or 2019.

Category A scholarships of up to EUR 49,000

for the two-year programme:

Category A scholarships are open to citizens and/or residents of any country other than the EU member states, Iceland, Liechtenstein and Norway, provided that they are not currently resident in those countries and have not carried out significant activity (studies or work) in any of those countries for more than a total of twelve months in the last five years.

Category B scholarships of up to EUR 34,000

for the two-year programme:

Category B scholarships are open to citizens and/or residents of the EU member states, Iceland, Liechtenstein and Norway, as well as to students who do not meet the Category A criteria as defined above

1 ST SEMESTER	2 ND SEMESTER	3 RD SEMESTER	4 TH SEMESTER
Reporting Global Change 10 ECTS	Analytical Journalism 10 ECTS	Specialism Year	THESIS
Globalisation and World Order 10 ECTS	Media and Journalism Research in the Context of Globalisation 20 ECTS
Social Science Methods for Journalists 10 ECTS
30 ECTS	30 ECTS	30 ECTS	30 ECTS

The academic regulations for the Master's programmes at the Faculty of Arts are currently being revised, which means that some of the courses or course titles are subject to change. Please check online for the latest programme structure.

PLACE OF STUDY

Aarhus and abroad

WWW

mundusjournalism.com

EXPECTED TUITION FOR THE 2-YEAR STUDY PROGRAMME

EU/EEA/Swiss citizens: EUR 9,000

Others: EUR 18,000